Gender & Disaster Pod

An initiative of WHGNE, WHIN & MUDRI

Formation & Purpose

The Gender & Disaster (GAD) Pod is an initiative of Women's Health Goulburn North East \(WHGNE\) and Women's Health In the North \(WHIN\), working in partnership with Monash University Disaster Resilience Initiative.

The GAD Pod was formally established in 2015 to promote an understanding of the role played by gender in survivor responses to natural disaster, and to embed these insights into emergency management practice.

Headed by Researcher, Dr Debra Parkinson (Adjunct Research Fellow, MUDRI), the GAD Pod reports to the Executive Officers of WHGNE and WHIN (with accountability to relevant funding bodies).

With funding from State and Federal governments and agencies, the GAD Pod is working to further initiatives in the area of gender and disaster.

History

The initiatives of the GAD Pod are grounded in qualitative research undertaken by the Pod partners in the aftermath of the 2009 Black Saturday bushfires. These were the most deadly fires since colonial settlement, with 173 people losing their lives, 414 people injured, 2029 houses destroyed and 7000 people displaced.

Wanting to offer support—but aware that recovery organisations were inundated with help from Australia and overseas—WHGNE consulted on-the-ground organisations about the most appropriate way, and time, to assist. Between late 2009 and 2013, researchers conducted in-depth interviews with 30 women, 47 workers, and 32 men affected by the fires – capturing their first-hand accounts of the disaster and its aftermath.

The research was staggered, with initial interviews conducted with women and health/community workers only. In 2012, the findings from this initial research—captured in The Way He Tells It: Relationships after Black Saturday—were released at Australia's first conference on natural disasters and family violence Identifying the Hidden Disaster.

Although worldwide literature suggests that increased violence against women is characteristic of post-disaster recovery, this was the first research conducted in Australia which identified and examined the link between natural disasters and violence against women.

The Hidden Disaster conference galvanised interest in gender in disaster, and led to an invitation by Monash University's Injury Research Institute (now MUDRI), to lead a successful partnership submission to the National Disaster Resilience Grants Scheme. With new project funding, the researchers continued their interviews—this time with men—to consider men's experiences during and after Black Saturday. The findings of this research are captured in the research report, Men on Black Saturday: Risks and opportunities for change.

Since undertaking the foundational research, the Pod partners have led, or collaborated on, a range of initiatives—with critical input from leaders and personnel in emergency management, academia, government and community —intended to inform responses to women and men in future disasters. For example, research commissioned in 2015 by DELWP was conducted by the GAD Pod to identify the barriers for women in fire and emergency leadership roles; collaborative development of national Gender and EM Guidelines; the 3-year Gender and Disaster Taskforce 2014-2016, auspiced by the Victorian Emergency Management Commissioner; the Diversity in Disaster Conference, in Melbourne 17-18th April, 2018 (in partnership); and the research with GLHV@arcs, La Trobe University for Department of Premier and Cabinet on LGBTI communities in emergencies.

Current research is investigating long-term disaster resilience. A comprehensive account of the GAD Pod's work follows.

Awards Received

Date/Year	Title	Note / Ref.
2017	The Mary Fran Myers Award 2017 was awarded by the Natural Hazards Centre in Boulder, Colorado, and the Gender and Disaster Network for our collaborative efforts to reduce disaster vulnerability through advocacy, research and management. The award was to the lead researchers, the three GAD Pod organisations and executive officers, EMV and DHHS (along with GAD Taskforce members and community). This prestigious award is an important recognition of the Victorian-based research in the field of gender and disaster.	Awarded to the Gender and Disaster Collaboration
2015	The award for Best Thesis in the Social & Political Sciences was presented for 'Women's experience of violence following the aftermath of the Black	Awarded to D. Parkinson

	Saturday bushfires' (Supervisors: Professor Denise Cuthbert (RMIT), Dr Kirsten McLean, Dr Danielle Tyson.)
2014	Resilient Australia Award , sponsored by the Attorney-General's Department, for 'Gender & Disaster: Leading the Change', in the category of 'Projects of National Significance'.	Awarded to WHGNE, WHIN & MIRI
2013	Victorian Health Promotion Foundation Award for 'Family violence after natural disaster research: Breaking new ground', in the category of 'Knowledge and Understanding'.	Awarded to WHGNE
2013	The 6th Professor Frederick 'Skip' Burkle Jnr Keynote Lecture, 2013 at the MUDRI Research Symposium, Monash University on 27/11/2013.	Presented to D. Parkinson and C. Zara

Major Achievements/Outcomes

Date/Year	Outcome
Ongoing	GAD Pod website www.genderanddisaster.com.au and monthly Communiqué to a mailing list of approximately 900 subscribers (since June 2015).
2019	Invited to join the Project Management Group by Inspector-General of EM, Queensland, as they implement the GAD Pod's Gender and EM Guidelines in Queensland.
2018	The Long-Term Disaster Resilience research report was highlighted in Federal Parliament by MP (Indi) Cathy McGowan. Watch her moving speech here: https://lnkd.in/gS65Hzm
2018	Trainers Rachael Mackay and Steve O'Malley (MFB) delivered training to middle and senior Emergency Managers in Hobart and Launceston.
2018	The GAD Pod was funded by NDRGS to develop and deliver the Diversity in Disaster Conference, MCG, Melbourne, 17-18 th April. (With invited partners VCOS and RM.)
2017- 2019	Contributor to Australian Institute of Disaster Resilience (AIDR) review of Community Recovery (Handbook 2) and Evacuation Planning (Handbook 4), and AIDR's Disaster Health Handbook.
2016	National Gender and Emergency Management Guidelines accepted and online at the AIDR Knowledge Hub. Funded by National Emergency Management Projects. http://www.genderanddisaster.com.au/info-hub/national-gem-guidelines/ The GEM Guidelines were accepted by UNISDR PreventionWeb – http://www.preventionweb.net/publications/view/50289 (PreventionWeb is the global disaster risk reduction (DRR) community platform to find and share DRR knowledge and expertise, and progress on the implementation the Sendai Framework for Disaster Risk Reduction 2015-2030.)
2016	MUDRI and EMV's 'Community-based resilience compendium' includes a page on the GAD Pod's work. http://www.monash.edu/_data/assets/pdf_file/0003/462468/Compendium-14042016.pdf
2016	Addressing family violence in communities recovering from emergencies: A strategy to integrate family violence services with emergency recovery V 1.1 (1 August, 2016). Melbourne: DHHS. (Recommends the use of GAD Pod Roadmaps and training – currently being updated.)
2015-16 & 2016-17	ABC TV and Radio and community service announcement on DV during natural disaster aired on ABC TV and 57 rural radio stations, in collaboration with 1800 RESPECT. https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=j-CGTRmsC2c

2016	Victorian draft of Gender and Emergency Management Guidelines accepted by DHHS.
2015	Roadmaps resource in collaboration with Victorian DHHS. http://www.genderanddisaster.com.au/roadmaps/
07/07/2015	Launch of the Gender and Disaster Pod website (www.genderanddisaster.com.au) at the 2015 Emergency Management Conference, Albert Park, Melbourne
2015	Formation of the Gender and Disaster Pod, an initiative of WHGNE, WHIN and MIRI, headed by WHGNE/WHIN Researcher Dr Debra Parkinson (Adjunct Research Fellow, MUDRI).
2014	Special presentation to the Gender and Disaster Taskforce, by Sex Discrimination Commissioner, Elizabeth Broderick and Chief of Army, Lt. Gen. David Morrison AO.
2014	Upon invitation, lead researchers presented a paper (The link between disaster and violence against women) at the 2014 ISA World Congress of Sociology in Yokohama, Japan, as part of ISA XV111 Conference, 'Facing an Unequal World: Challenges for Global Sociology'. (Subsequent presentations in Copenhagen, Denmark in 2015 and Boulder, Colorado 2017.)
2014	Formation of the 3-year Gender and Disaster Taskforce, auspiced by the Emergency Management Commissioner Victoria, with representation from all major Victorian ESOs, and the community, government, academic and women's health sectors.
2013	The Department of Human Services contracted WHGNE to adapt its newly developed training package on 'Family Violence after Natural Disaster' for online download. (DHS workers are now using the Training Package to train workers in recognising/responding to FV after disaster).
2013	Victoria Police utilising the Family Violence after Natural Disaster resources to train police recruits in post-disaster risk management.
2013	The Department of Human Services Emergency Branch altered the design of its quarterly reporting form by case managers to include reporting on Family Violence – a key recommendation in the first research report.
2013 ongoing	Monash Injury Research Institute (now MUDRI) included the GAD Pod website as a key resource in their unit on 'Principles of good research practice in the emergency and disaster setting', which is a core subject for their Master's degree. (Melbourne University and RMIT also currently reference this work in various study unit
2012 Ongoing	The International Gender and Disaster Network included The Way He Tells It and Beating the Flames on the front page of their website (http://www.gdonline.org/), and on their 'Women and girls on the map' website which highlights the disaster risk reduction work of women and girls across the world. (https://womenandgirlsonthemap.crowdmap.com/reports/view/47) There are ongoing updates.
2012	'The Way He Tells It: Relationships after Black Saturday' is one of six key texts (and the only Australian research paper) used by the Australian Domestic and Family Violence Clearinghouse, to produce a thematic review on 'Domestic Violence and Natural Disasters' (Sety, 2012).

GAD Pod Training

Over 350 delegates from the emergency services sector including local government, police, volunteers and community members have participated in the training offered by the GAD Pod. The training encompasses local and international research into family violence following disasters, and research into the challenges faced by men in the context of disasters. The policy and practice implications for identifying and responding to family violence are examined and participants are challenged to take action to address gendered stereotypes which are harmful to women, men and children's healing and recovery following disaster. The training offers participants the opportunity to formulate new and proven actions as individuals, community members and within their organisations which respond to family violence and which challenge harmful stereotypes which limit people's recovery.
