Gender and Disaster Australia

Gender & Disaster Pod

An initiative of WHGNE, WHIN & MUDRI

Formation & Purpose

The Gender & Disaster (GAD) Pod is an initiative of Women's Health Goulburn North East \(WHGNE\), Women's Health In the North \(WHIN\), and Monash University Disaster Resilience Initiative \(MUDRI\).

Now known as Gender and Disaster Australia (GADA), the GAD Pod was formally established in 2015 to promote an understanding of the role played by gender in survivor responses to disaster – including increased family violence – and to embed these insights into emergency management practice.

Headed by Researcher, Dr Debra Parkinson (Adjunct Research Fellow, MUDRI), the GAD Pod is managed through WHIN, and reports to relevant funding bodies.

History

The initiatives of the GAD Pod are grounded in qualitative research in the aftermath of the 2009 Black Saturday bushfires. These were the deadliest fires since colonial settlement, with 173 people losing their lives, 414 people injured, 2029 houses destroyed and 7000 people displaced.

As recovery organisations were inundated with help from Australia and overseas—WHGNE consulted on-the-ground organisations about the most appropriate way, and time, to assist. Between late 2009 and 2013, Debra Parkinson and Claire Zara conducted in-depth interviews with 30 women, 47 workers, and 32 men affected by the fires – capturing their first-hand accounts of the disaster and its aftermath.

In 2012, the findings from this initial research—captured in The Way He Tells It: Relationships after Black Saturday—were released at Australia's first conference on natural disasters and family violence Identifying the Hidden Disaster.

Although worldwide literature suggests that increased violence against women is characteristic of post-disaster recovery, this was the first research conducted in Australia to identify and examine the link between disasters and violence against women.

The Hidden Disaster conference galvanised interest in gender in disaster, and led to an invitation by Monash University's Injury Research Institute (now MUDRI), to lead a successful partnership submission to the National Disaster Resilience Grants Scheme. With new project funding, Debra and Claire continued their interviews—this time with men—to consider men's experiences during and after Black Saturday. The findings of this research are captured in the research report, Men on Black Saturday: Risks and opportunities for change.

Since undertaking the foundational research, the GAD Pod has led a range of initiatives—with critical input from leaders and personnel in emergency management, academia, government and community — intended to inform responses to women and men in future disasters. For example:

- research commissioned 2015 by DELWP to identify barriers for women in fire and emergency leadership roles;
- collaborative development of National Gender and EM Guidelines;
- the 3-year Gender and Disaster Taskforce 2014-2016, auspiced by the Victorian Emergency Management Commissioner;
- the Diversity in Disaster Conference, in Melbourne 2018 (in partnership);
- research on LGBTI communities in emergencies with GLHV@arcshs, LaTrobe University for DPC
- NDRGS-funded research into long-term disaster resilience, launched in 2019.
- Gender Justice in Disaster: Inspiring Action conference, 2021, launched The Wheeler Centre.

The dedicated GAD Pod team is currently staffed by Manager, Debra Parkinson, Jaspreet Kaur, CEOs Helen Riseborough, Prof Frank Archer & Amanda Kelly. Highly valued Associates include Steve O'Malley, Liam Leonard, Naomi Bailey, Susie Reid, Cathy Weiss, Alyssa Duncan & other contributors.

Date/Year	Outcome
2020	Contracted to lead two research projects into the effect of COVID-19 – one on elder abuse and the second on primary prevention workers. The GAD Pod was also commissioned to lead the literature review into LGBTIQ+ people and COVID (led by Liam Leonard).
2020	The GAD Pod moved the four key modules of training to an online format to allow delivery during COVID-19 restrictions. Increased demand following Black Summer bushfires saw over 70 sessions delivered to 35+ people from fire affected communities and key organisations including the CFA, local Government and the Red Cross nationally. Increased demand for information in gender and disaster saw media interest from mainstream Australian media, the BBC and US outlets. Equally, there was increased demand for seminar and conference presentations from the emergency sector, the violence against women sector and the health and community sector.
2019	Family violence framework for emergency management. Melbourne: DHHS. (Recommends the use of GAD Pod Roadmaps and training.) https://providers.dhhs.vic.gov.au/family-violence-framework-emergency-management
2019	World Association of Disaster and Emergency Medicine (WADEM) Gender and Disaster Position Statement presented to 2019 WADEM Congress and submitted to WADEM Board May 2019. Accepted by WADEM August 2019. https://wadem.org/about/position-statements/
2019	Member of the Preventing Violence Against Women Expert Panel for Macedon Ranges Shire Council.
2019	Member of the Project Management Group of the Inspector-General of EM, Queensland, re. implementation of the GAD Pod's Gender and EM Guidelines in Queensland.
2018	The Long-Term Disaster Resilience research report was highlighted in Federal Parliament by MP (Indi) Cathy McGowan. Watch her moving speech here: https://lnkd.in/g/65Hzm
2018	Trainers Rachael Mackay and Steve O'Malley (MFB) delivered training to middle and senior Emergency Managers in Hobart and Launceston.
2018	The GAD Pod was funded by NDRGS to develop and deliver the Diversity in Disaster Conference, MCG, Melbourne, 17-18 th April. (With invited partners VCOSS and RM.)
2017- 2019	Contributor to Australian Institute of Disaster Resilience (AIDR) review of Community Recovery (Handbook 2) and Evacuation Planning (Handbook 4), and AIDR's Health Disaster Management Handbook.
2016	National Gender and Emergency Management Guidelines accepted and online at the AIDR Knowledge Hub. Funded by National Emergency Management Projects. https://knowledge.aidr.org.au/resources/national-gender-and-emergency-management-guidelines/  The GEM Guidelines were accepted by UNISDR PreventionWeb – http://www.preventionweb.net/publications/view/50289  (PreventionWeb is the global disaster risk reduction (DRR) community platform to find and share DRR knowledge and expertise, and progress on the implementation the Sendai Framework for Disaster Risk Reduction 2015-2030.)

GAD Pod Training

Over 500 delegates from the emergency services sector including local government, police, volunteers and community members have participated in the training offered by the GAD Pod. The training encompasses local and international research into family violence following disasters, and research into the challenges faced by men in the context of disasters. The policy and practice implications for identifying and responding to family violence are examined and participants are challenged to take action to address gendered stereotypes which are harmful to women, men and children's healing and recovery following disaster. The training offers participants the opportunity to formulate new and proven actions as individuals, community members and within their organisations which respond to family violence and which challenge harmful stereotypes which limit people's recovery.
